

EarthCraft House Builder Training

Hosted by Palmetto Bluff LLC

EarthCraft House is a voluntary green building program offered by the Southface Energy Institute with support from the South Carolina Energy Office. The program serves as a blueprint for healthy, comfortable homes that not only reduce utility bills but also protects the environment. Any size or style of new home can be certified under the program by meeting EarthCraft House guidelines.

The advantages of building an EarthCraft House are:

- Reduced callbacks;
- Product differentiation;
- Increased profit; and,
- Access to Energy Mortgage Programs.

Attend this session and learn:

- How to apply high performance construction techniques to new homes;
- How to improve the energy efficiency, indoor air quality, and durability of those homes; and,
- How to certify a new home as an EarthCraft House.

EarthCraft House's technical staff will teach the session.

Note: To have any house certified builders EarthCraft House must attend an EarthCraft House class and then submit an application (along with the application fee) to Southface.
